COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

In compliance with the vote at the last annual town meeting, Henry Hastings, who served as Moderator, submitted the names of the following persons which were approved by the Board of Selectmen to serve on the Budget Committee for a term of three years: Sumner Burgess, Richard Stevens, Richard Davis, and Charles Keoskie.

At the Aug. 9th meeting of the Board of Selectmen it was voted that there be no parking on the westerly side of Main Street, commencing with the intersection of Railroad Street and continuing to opposite the property of Garey York. This vote was taken under the provisions of Article 3, Section XVI of the Ordinances and will become effective as soon as the proper warning signs are erected.

At the same meeting the Selectmen also voted that the 1961 Town Road Improvement Fund in the amount of $5,987.02 be expended on the Grover Hill Road, commencing at the end of the 1960 work.

Eye witness reports to the Town Office indicate that a few boys are desecrating the Steam Mill Cemetery. It is suggested that parents warn their children that the cemetery is definitely not a playground area.

Sincerely,
Harold L. Bean

"Hurry Bugs" are so intent upon cramming their vacations full of activity that they fail to take the time to drive safely," the State Police caution. They suggested a more relaxed attitude as a safeguard for the driver, pointing out that a vacation is a time to take it easy and to enjoy a little fun.

"There is very little fun in preparing an over-ambitious driving schedule, then trying to keep up with it, regardless of what happens," they con-

Mrs. Nelson Durgin (Carla Grover) whose wedding occurred Sunday, Aug. 6, at the Bethel Congregational Church.

THIS IS THE LAW

Police, fire department, traffic emergency repair vehicles and ambulances, when operated in response to calls, shall have the right of way; and on the approach of any such vehicle, from any direction, and when such vehicle is sounding a siren, the driver of every other vehicle shall immediately draw his vehicle as near as practicable to the right-hand curb and parallel thereto and bring it to a standstill until such public service vehicle has passed.

The certificate of registration of a car shall always be carried on the person of the operator or in some easily accessible place in or about the car.

Any person driving a vehicle on a way shall drive the same at a careful and prudent speed not greater than is reasonable or proper, having due regard to the traffic, surface and width of the highway, and of any other conditions then existing.

Where sidewalks are provided and their use is practicable, it shall be unlawful for any pedestrian to walk along and upon an adjacent way.

The driver of a motor vehicle approaching an oncoming vehicle within 500 feet shall dim his headlights. No driver of a motor vehicle shall operate his headlights continuously on the high beam when following a motor vehicle closer than 100 feet. Where sidewalks are not provided, any pedestrian walking along a highway shall, when practicable, walk only on the left side of the way or its shoulder facing traffic which may approach from the opposite direction.

The way we get it, just about everybody is ready to make the sacrifices the times require. We're just waiting for President Kennedy to suggest something that we wouldn't mind giving up.—Changing Times

"If we could collect $1,600 from each man, woman, and child in the land, and give it all to the Federal Government, the Government would be solvent for a few moments."—Connecticut Industrial Review.

Continued. The enforcement group advised motorists to get an early start each day and to plan to cover only as much territory as they can manage without strain. These two things, they emphasized, will remove the pressure to drive at speeds too fast for conditions, to follow too closely, to pass improperly, to disregard traffic signs and signals, and to ignore the ordinary rules of safety and courtesy on the road.

"Nighttime driving calls for extra care," the police warned. "Naturally, danger is increased after dark, and vacationing drivers are likely to be sleepy and tired. Stay alert for this type of driver who has probably tried to drive 'too far, too fast'."

A high percentage of vacationtime traffic accidents can be laid at the door of impatient, discourteous drivers," they concluded. "Be sure that you are not guilty of this kind of driving, and keep an eye out for the 'Hurry Bugs' who fail to give consideration to others on the road. Above all, remember to Slow Down and Live!"

More than 500,000 people have been helped by the electronic miracle: Puritron! They feel better, work better, breathe cleaner purer air.

Ask your family doctor or allergist about Puritron. More than half-a-million people swear by it. They say it helps. How? Electronically, without window, vent or fan. It pulls in air heavy with pollen (smoke, dust, grease and odors, too). Filters it over special electronic tubes. Then out into the room: with these irritants removed. You breathe cleaner, purer, fresher air. You sleep better, feel better with a Puritron around. Portable; plug it in. Get it for a $39.95 10-day trial.

Hold Down That Lid!

MORE ABOUT OTHER DAYS IN BETHEL VILLAGE

In the account of "then and now" comparison in last week's Citizen much of interest was of necessity omitted, and some of the statements might well be the cause of confusion when the story is reviewed by another generation. Little attempt was made to bring one up to date on the new businesses in new locations or those who may have passed without a successor.

Thirty years ago the selectmen's office over the Savings Bank was that now of the town manager. The rooms across the hallway on the second floor of the Cole Block were then vacant, and had been since the selectmen's office vacated that location a few years before. Now these rooms are again occupied by the selectmen and assessors.

In 1931 Wallace Warren was the town's general blacksmith in the shop earlier carried on for years by Albert C. Frost. At the same time Frank R. Bartlett did blacksmith work in connection with the busy carriage shop at the foot of Mill Hill where he succeeded his father, Frank C. Bartlett. Previous owners of the business were Pinckney Burnham and Moses Cross, the latter having built the two story structure before 1800 and first used it as a carding mill.

For some time in the 1930's there was a pool room at the rear of Fred Hall's barber shop in the quarters occupied afterward for several years by the late Horace Littlefield. In the Corporation building next door, was the village's well-known "Monte Carlo," where it is said that a group of men spent leisure periods playing pinche.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

August 16, 1961
To the Editor of The Bethel Citizen
Bethel, Maine
Dear Sir:

Quite recently my wife and I spent two hours in the Village while minor adjustments were being made on our automobile. With the intention of whiling the time away pleasantly, we bought a magazine and newspaper at Bosserman's and went out to find a place to sit. To our dismay we discovered that there isn't a public bench in the entire village of Bethel.

Of course I could have brought my wife to Stanley Fox's barber shop where a seat is generally available. However, I was very loath to invade that male sanctuary accompanied by a female. The scintillating and inspiring conversation that pervades Stanley's barber shop should never be marred by the intrusion of alien (female) ears. The barber shop is the sole retreat of the hapless American male where he can offer any oral opinion without fear of being taken apart. Obviously he has lost that privilege at home.

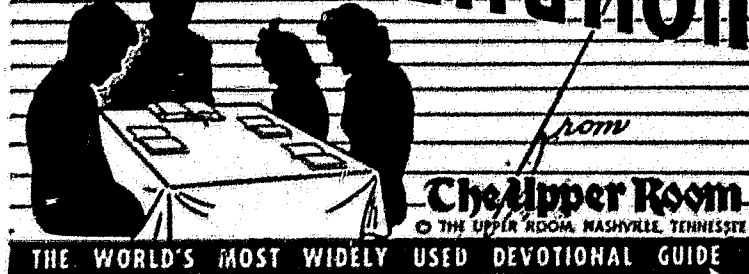

The lack of a public bench in Bethel Village is surprising. There is an abundance of timber, a great reservoir of competent carpenters and evident public spirit. Given these three elements as a nucleus, there should be no problem in constructing the benches. A few should be placed at the upper and lower ends of the village and in between.

No village should be without a park bench. It is a place where the young can dream, and the old can rest. It is a retreat for the weary, and the problems of the unhappy are frequently dissipated in the soul searching contemplation on a park bench.

Bernard Baruch, one of America's best beloved elder statesmen, has given dignity and substance to the park bench. For years he has used it as a base of operations when giving public interviews. He is almost ninety years old now, and he remains the outstanding example of the value of the park bench in our society.

Please let us have the public benches. Those of us who

TODAY'S Meditation

Thursday, August 17

Read Proverbs 12:17-23;
John 3:1-11

Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor. (Exodus 20:16.)

Traveling through the mountains from a farm where we had had some days of vacation, we gave an elderly lady a ride. She was going to a religious meeting. During the few minutes she was in the car, we soon learned that she was very inquisitive and was willing to use her tongue.

She wanted to know from where we had come. I mentioned the name of a farmer, "Oh," she said, "he is quite a man—impossible to say anything evil about him."

Then she talked about other people. I am sure they all were sinners, though some were Christians and some non-Christians. She did bear witness—even false witness against many of them. It is possible, to bear false witness, even against non-Christians.

I am quite convinced that it is a sin to speak when we bear false testimony and do not keep to the truth. Let us be careful when we talk—keep to truth and be governed by love.

PRAYER: Dear Father, help us to be more careful when we talk and bring our witness. Let us never hurt people by telling things which are not true. May all we say and do in life express that love which was revealed in Jesus, the truth and the love by which we live. In His blessed name we pray. Amen.

The tongue can be used for good or for evil. Let us use it only for good. —Madame Haggen (Sweden)

COUNTRY FLAVOR

AUGUST SOUNDS

August is the shadow of autumn and seagulls tell us it is a quiet month. As eighth month days of heat and humidity ploy by, one can feel Nature pause to consolidate its forces for the seasonal change ahead.

It is a quiet month if one thinks in terms of the bird symphony of May or the tempests that howl in January. But August has its own distinctive sounds that blend with the spirit of maturing year.

Male cicadas, with their plump bodies and large transparent wings, send shrill notes into the heat of high noon; katydids rasp brittle calls and crickets fiddle from midmorning into the evening.

Only a few birds contribute to the August musicale. Goldfinches cheep as they swoop and circle over shorn fields; wood peewees call their name through sultry, oppressive can't build them can contribute to the cost of their erection. Is Bethel to remain among the few that fail to provide a place to sit to the weary? The next time that we are compelled to spend an enforced hour or two in the Village on a hot, lazy August afternoon, may we look forward to the prospect of spending the time on a comfortable bench under the rustling leaves of a stately elm?

Sincerely,
Mark E. Cymrot

SCOUT and TRAVELALL!

America's new work-or-play wonder! The Scout is a whole new idea in low-cost transportation. It's a hardtop pickup that hauls good-size loads one minute. The next, it's an open air runabout that carries three passengers in front and more in the rear. Optional all-wheel drive makes it an off-road workhorse, too. And an optional Travel-Trip converts it into a town delivery. But no matter where the Scout goes, a thrifty new INTERNATIONAL four-cylinder Comanche engine saves on gas and oil.

The TRAVELALL® by INTERNATIONAL is lower in height, for easy in-and-out. Inside, it offers lots of room for passengers and loads. It has four wide doors. A tailgate that swings open to easy loading height. A flat floor. An electrically operated rear window and a clean underside for extra ground clearance. INTERNATIONAL V-8 power is standard. Some models offer torsion-bar front suspension and box type frame.

Come in today! See 'em! Drive 'em! Price 'em!

ALCOHOL AND TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

The importance of drinking as a factor in motor vehicle accidents is partially obscured by differences in the interpretation of drinking and its contribution as an accident cause. In specific studies, though, frequently 50% or more of the fatal accidents have involved drinking drivers or drinking pedestrians. For example, in Maryland, the Department of Post Mortem Examiners analyzes the blood of drivers and pedestrians who die within six hours of a motor vehicle accident. Among these victims nearly 3 out of 4 drivers, and 3 out of 5 pedestrians have been found with alcohol in their blood.

STATE TO OPEN BIDS ON THREE PROJECTS THIS MONTH

The State Highway Commission will open bids August 23d for highway construction projects in Brunswick and Orono. On August 30th bids on a project in Bethel will be opened.

The two projects in Brunswick, to be let under a single contract, will extend the present construction, which is relocating a section of U. S. Route 1 through that town, easterly to Cook's Corner where the new highway will join existing Route 1. The contract calls for paving the already graded portion of highway from a point near Stone Street easterly a little over a half mile to the urban line. From this point easterly to Cook's Corner, about a mile and three quarters, the contract calls for complete construction of the highway—grading, drainage, base and pavement. The completed road will be a controlled-access, divided highway with two, 12-foot travel lanes in each direction. The roadways will be separated by a median strip of variable width. The contract calls for a portland cement concrete pavement on the main line and black top on a half mile section of Route 1 to be rebuilt at Cook's Corner. Plans show that the new section of Route 1 from the entrance to the Brunswick Naval Air Station easterly to the road to Thomas Point will be widened to four lanes with channelization to guide traffic more safely during turning movements between Route 1 and the intersecting highways. The ultimate objective is to build a four-lane divided highway from the junction of Pleasant and Mill Streets in Brunswick to the new elevated approach to the Carlton Bridge in Bath.

Money, Inflation And Gold

With the recent request of the Administration for an additional emergency $3.5-billion for the defense program to meet Communist threats in Berlin and other areas, it becomes apparent that we will probably have to face the largest budget deficit since the fiscal year ended June 30, 1953 when it ran $12.5-billion due to the 1952 business recession. A large part of this $3.5-billion will be used to buy new armaments and thus stimulate the economy, which of course is good for both business and the stock market, providing it does not entail higher taxes or more rigid government regulations. At the same time there have been fears expressed that we will now enter a period of greater inflation and many investors are apparently increasing their equity holdings as a hedge against such an inflation.

In the inflationary period from the end of 1945 to the end of 1948 the crude oil producing stocks were outstanding being up 62.4% compared to 23.8% for the cost of living; 12.6% for the Federal Reserve Board Index of Industrial Production; and -11.8% for the Standard & Poor's 500 Stock Index. Outstanding in this group is Amerasia Petroleum with other principal crude oil producers including Texas Gulf Producing and Texas Pacific Oil & Gas.

The group that performed most conspicuously next in the 1945-48 inflationary period were the coal stocks up 62.5%. This group is still almost 20% below its 1955 highs. We feel that some of the stocks are worth looking at, especially Pittston Co. for its more conservative minded and Island Creek Coal for speculators.

Other groups that outperformed the market in the 1945-48 period were: rayon up 19.7%; sulphur stocks up 15.4%; office equipment stocks up 6.0%; copper stocks up 2.0%; chemicals up 0.5%; and paper stocks up 0.1%. Of these groups we feel the copper, chemicals and paper look most promising. In the chemical and paper groups most of the good stocks may be purchased including Allied Chemical, DuPont and Union Carbide and in the paper group Crown Zellerbach, International Paper and Kimberly Clark.

Sonnic Boom

The general interest in the story of the sonic boom leads us to pass along the information contained in a series of articles in "USAF News for Retired Personnel" in the January to April issues this year. We are indebted to T-Sgt. Richard E. Thompson USAF (Ret.) of Bethel for this opportunity. We quote:

Within the past few years, such exotic high performance planes as the F-100, F-101, F-102, F-104, F-105, F-106, and the world's first supersonic bomber, the B-58 Hustler, have been placed into service. With the advent of these planes, we can no longer avoid creating the sonic boom. With the earlier jets it was necessary for the pilot to make a concerted effort to exceed the speed of sound, usually in a vertical dive with full power. In today's planes supersonic flight is an inherent characteristic and a matter of necessity, even during routine mission accomplishment.

Congressional inquiries and complaints from private citizens processed by the Pentagon at the rate of over 400 per year are a small measure of the public concern. This volume is magnified many times at the local level wherever supersonic aircraft is located.

Once acquainted with the sonic boom, it is easy to understand the reason for the irate and voluminous public reaction. There are three essential elements of the problem that makes this so.

First is the fact that the sonic boom from a single plane can cover such a vast area and involve such a large number of people. Visualize, if you will, a B-58 at 40,000 feet, flying a direct course across Washington, D. C., to New York City, at a speed of 1,200 mph, a common speed today. The resultant pressure waves lay down a continuous sonic boom that progresses with the plane along the full route of the flight. Thus, the entire population of Washington, D. C., Baltimore, Philadelphia, Newark, Jersey City, New York City, and as far as 25 miles to either side of the flight path—a total of almost 20 million people—will experience a disturbing sonic boom, and the total flying time is less than 15 minutes. The F-106 interceptors based at Linda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Cole, Greenwood Center, celebrated her fifth birthday last Saturday with a trip to the Rumford wild animal farm.

Bunker Hill AFB, for example, can traverse the entire length of Indiana from the Ohio River to Lake Michigan in less than 16 minutes and the sonic boom it drags along may cover a path as much as 50 miles wide.

Secondly, property damage has, on occasion, been caused by the sonic boom and while many people will tolerate a personal disturbance without complaining, it's an entirely different matter when they suffer damage to their homes or places of business.

And last, is the objectionable, frightening nature of the sonic boom. Throughout history, man has been confused and frightened by sounds he could not identify or did not understand—the eruption of volcanoes, for example, or the rumble of thunder. But unlike the rumble of thunder, the sonic boom comes without warning. The sudden, sharp, explosion-like sound creates fear and apprehension and also serves to create misconceptions. Judging from complaints received at the Pentagon, the common misunderstandings are:

That sonic booms are created by irresponsible hotrod pilots and therefore, with proper discipline and control, sonic booms can be eliminated.

That the airplane must be diving to cause the boom.

That the boom can be con-
